

Lupelele Elementary School

Pago Pago, American Samoa

“I pledge allegiance to the Zero Waste Week campaign that under any circumstances I will do my best to keep American Samoa beautiful...” With their zero waste week pledges, students at Lupelele Elementary School worked together to inspire their peers to clean up school grounds and to make every week a Zero Waste Week! They designed and distributed colorful student-made Zero Waste Week posters, conducted a campus clean-up, and created many opportunities for students to talk to one another about the impact of waste on their island community. In addition, they all brainstormed ways they can work together to keep their home beautiful and safe for future generations.